

FOR EASIER MONEY.

Conferees Devising New Legislation at Washington.

State Bank Issues Would Not Afford Needed Relief.

Mr. Springer's Idea of New Securities for National Banks.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—One of the first subjects to engage the attention of Congress when it convenes in regular session at the beginning of December will be a new banking and currency system.

For the past two weeks Congressman Springer, of Illinois, Chairman of the House Committee on Banks and Currency; Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Finance, Congressman De Witt Warren, of New York, and others have been engaged in frequent consultations with the President, Secretary of the Treasury, the Comptroller of the Currency and other financial officers of the Administration, with a view to legislation which will provide a larger and more convertible circulating medium without involving any financial or political embarrassments that would grow out of a revival of the fiat money days.

When asked for a copy of the measure under consideration by himself and his colleagues, Mr. Springer stated that it could not be given out in detail until it had met the full approval of the various other members of the Committee over which he presided.

"We have been engaged for several months," said Chairman Springer, "in the preparation of a measure which at the proper time it will introduce in the House and have referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency, of which I am Chairman."

"Our object is to respond, as far as possible, to the reasonable demands of the country for a better system of currency and to provide some plan by which our currency may be placed upon a better basis."

"Any effort, in my judgment, to return to the system of fiat money which prevailed before the war would be futile, and even if it were possible, it would furnish little or no relief to the country."

"The reason of this is obvious. A great many States in the Union have adopted constitutional provisions prohibiting the charter of banks of issue. States with authority to issue circulating notes. Such notes, therefore, could only be of local value, and some States would provide a safe system, the experience of the past shows that irredeemable issues of paper money would flood the country, that counterfeiting would be universal and that the system of the country would be thrown into confusion."

"What is required and demanded by the country is a National currency which shall at all times be convertible into coin on demand, and which shall be of character, sufficient in volume, and so distributed throughout the country as to respond to the wants of trade and prevent congestion."

"I don't think the present National banking system has proved adequate to the demands of the country. There are less than $200,000,000 of National bank notes now in circulation, and there is no prospect of an increased circulation unless more favorable legislation be passed by Congress."

"The near approach to the time when National bank notes will be due and payable, and the limited volume of this kind of the highest prices in the market, prove conclusively that the security for circulation must be resorted to."

"With proper regulation under Government supervision the bonds of the States and of certain municipalities can be utilized for the purpose of securing a National currency, and the State banks as well as National depositors such securities ought to be permitted to take out currency at a discount of 10 per cent. of the par value of such securities."

"Efficient provisions should be made for the requirement of additional security in case of the slightest depreciation of these securities. The Government should assume all responsibility for the redemption in case of demand of such notes, and provisions should be made for the redemption of such notes at least 20 per cent. of the outstanding amount."

"The Government having thus assumed all responsibility for redemption and payment of its currency, there will be no necessity for bank reserves or for withholding any portion of the currency that might be issued from circulation among the people."

NO MORE TARIFF HEARING.
A Birmingham Club Wanted to Argue Against Free Iron Ore.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The Iron and Steel men of Alabama, will not be accorded a formal hearing by the Ways and Means Committee. For a week or two past, Congressman Wheeler, Senator Pugh and others, have been interviewing members of the Committee with a view of having a hearing accorded to the representatives of the Commercial Club of Birmingham, who desired a protest against the proposition now pending to place iron ore and coal on the free list.

Chairman Wilson, in denying the request of the Birmingham manufacturers, stated that the Committee had already closed its public hearings, and that to now make an exception for the Commercial Club would be to open the way for numerous other delegations which are demanding to be heard.

Congressman Bland, of Missouri, has also come to the hearing by the Ways and Means Committee, who desired a protest against the proposition now pending to place iron ore and coal on the free list.

THE HUGGER SENT UP.
Miss Hawes Did Not Appear, but There Was a Witness.

Thomas McDonald, of 147 West Fifty-first street, who was charged by Agnes Hawes, of 300 West Thirty-third street, with assaulting her at Thirty-second street and Seventy-third street, on the last night, was sent to the island for a month by Justice Koch at Jefferson Market Court today.

Folkman, Foreman, of the West Thirty-seventh street squad, saw Miss Hawes trying to hug and kiss Miss McDonald, and saw her try to throw a bottle at him. McDonald failed to appear today, and the complaint of disorderly conduct was pressed by the policeman.

MORE WARSHIPS FOR HAWAII.

It Is Said the Ranger and Mohican Are to Go.

Minister Willis's Rumored Orders for Admiral Irwin.

(By Associated Press.)

VALLEJO, Cal., Nov. 15.—It is said on good naval authority that as soon as the United States ships Ranger and Mohican, now at the Mare Island Navy-Yard, can be made ready for sea, the Secretary of the Navy will order them to Honolulu, where the Mohican will be made flagship of the Pacific squadron, relieving the Philadelphia, which will immediately proceed to Mare Island Navy-Yard.

The ordering of the Ranger and Mohican to Hawaii is said to be due to President Cleveland's desire to concentrate all available ships of the Pacific squadron in Hawaiian waters, as the combined crews of the Ranger and Mohican would enable the landing of a larger force than that of the Philadelphia.

Naval officers here are extremely cautious in commenting on the present attitude of Hawaii affairs, but predict the concentration of a large force at Honolulu.

Several officers who were serving on board the Boston at the time of the withdrawal of Queen Liliuokalani, deny the story that the marines from the Boston were landed through any mistake in interpreting the signals from the United States Consulate.

They state that as a howling mob thronged the streets of Honolulu, and the situation was threatening to become a riot, the marines were necessary to protect the Consulate, which had been broken into and ransacked on the night previous.

While it is plain to see that every naval officer reveres the policy of President Cleveland and Special Envoy Blount, they show a decided disposition to follow the directions of their superiors, directing that in the event of the rejection of President Cleveland's ultimatum to the Provisional Government, or any uprising, Admiral Irwin would dispatch the United States ship Albatross to the United States with any special communication Minister Willis might desire to send to Washington.

Admiral Skerrett, who was seen on the matter, said that while such a course is probable, he had no knowledge of it.

GRIPMAN M'DERMOTT'S CASE.
The Hearing on Mr. Conley's Death Goes Over.

William McDermodt, gripman of the Broadway car which ran over and killed P. J. Conley at Broadway and Thirtieth street last night, is arraigned in Jefferson Market Court this morning. Owing to the absence of two material witnesses, the hearing went over until tomorrow. Bonds in $2,500 were furnished for the appearance of the prisoner.

The accident was witnessed by a number of people. Mr. Conley was a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and had arrived in the city in the afternoon. He was registered at the Plaza Hotel. He left there to attend Palmer's Theatre, which was in the city. He was seen on the uptown tracks as he came rushing upon him. He seemed paralyzed at the moment, and then sprang back, but not quick enough. The platform of the car struck him on the shoulder, and he fell under the wheels. He died within twenty minutes.

Mr. Conley was forty years of age. He was a native of Woonsocket, R. I., and was employed as a gripman for the New York office at 84 Reade street. He was a member of the Woonsocket Rubber Company, which has a New York office at 84 Reade street.

FAITHLESS LOVER CAUGHT.

Dwyer Took Miss Schultz's Money and Disappeared.

Fled to Ireland, but Returned and Was Arrested.

John Dwyer, a good-looking young man, who has spent most of his life in caring for horses, was a prisoner in the Tombs Police Court this morning, charged with swindling. The complaint was Emma Schultz, who alleges that Dwyer, after agreeing to marry her, received $1,500 from her to be used in purchasing a business, and then, instead of investing the money as agreed, vanished.

Miss Schultz has been for many years employed as a cook in the family of Mr. Bernheimer, the millionaire brewer, at 98 West One Hundred and Fifteenth street. She is of an economical nature, and had succeeded in acquiring quite a fat bank account. Dwyer was also in the employ of Mr. Bernheimer last winter. The coachman and the cook fled in love. There was a mutual friend, Mrs. Ryan, of 247 West One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street. She added fuel to the flame of love by praising each lover alternately to the other.

Last January the wedding day was fixed, and Miss Schultz, by way of a wedding present, said she would give her promised husband $1,500, with which he was to buy a saloon. On Jan. 17 she and her John went to the bank and the $1,500 was drawn and handed over to Dwyer, who pocketed it, and at the first opportunity disappeared.

Miss Schultz may a bitter tear for her lost love.

On Jan. 27 she received a letter which opened her eyes. It was dated in Ireland, and it said: "I am in Ireland, where I am going to stay. I am married and have three children. We will not meet again except in heaven. Your friend, JOHN."

March 13, Miss Schultz notified the police and all the police captains were notified to look out for Dwyer if he came back.

Yesterday Capt. Reilly, of the East Fifty-third street station, spotted him. He had been working two months for the Bank of 8 West Fifty-third street. He was arrested by Detective Heideberg, of the Central Office. On his person were found letters from Mrs. Ryan, the supposed mutual friend.

Justice Meade held Dwyer for examination.

SMALL-POX IN CITY PRISON.

Michael Driscoll Held for Assault Develops Disease.

The startling announcement was made in the District-Attorney's office this morning that a prisoner in the City Prison had been found "suffering from small-pox. The man was sent to North Brother Island without the knowledge of Mr. Nicol, but he will offer no objection to the prisoner's removal."

The information came in the following letter:

Hon. J. L. Lander, District-Attorney. Sir: I am directed to notify you that a person named Michael Driscoll, 3-12 at the Tombs, and tried in Court of General Sessions, on charge of felonious assault, has been removed to North Brother Island by the Board of Health, it having been decided that he was suffering from small-pox. The physician in charge at North Brother Island has been notified to take every precaution to prevent the escape of the prisoner, and to isolate him from the other prisoners.

The Bureau of Contagious Diseases bulletined several cases of small-pox this morning. The patients were Rachel Canfield, five, of 175 Fifth Avenue; Andrew Patterson, eighteen years old, of 754 Eighth Avenue; Mrs. McCullagh, aged forty-five, of East One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street; and a woman, of Twenty-fifth, of 92 East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street.

All were removed to Riverside Hospital, North Brother Island. Dr. Doty claimed to know nothing of their surroundings, save in the case of Patterson, the latter is a hanger-on of the gutter press, and he boarded at the address given. Health officers have vaccinated the others residing in the tenement and fumigated the premises.
